NEW HOME FOR PHILIPS CUP — 1979

The Philips Cup has already fulfilled the aims of its founders — the Australian Soccer Federation and Philips Industries — in providing an Australian-wide knock-out competition.

In its first year, the Cup was contested only by the 14 Philips League clubs. In 1978 this was extended to take in 18 clubs nominated by the State ruling bodies from Western Australia and Tasmania in addition to the Australian Capital Territory and the five (Soccer) States in which the Philips League clubs are located.

Only two clubs have won the Philips Cup and only two others have appeared in the final.

Brisbane City won it in the inaugural year, 1977, beating Marconi in the final on penalties, after the scores were level at the end of extra time.

Brisbane City won it again the following year, beating Adelaide City in another hard-fought final.

In 1978, Adelaide City won the Cup, beating St George 3-2 in the final after being 2-0 down in the first half.

The progress of the competition, round by round, in 1979, is shown in the table below.
